But, to apply for such a program, you must be a Canadian citizen or a permanent resident in Canada. Further, your age must be 18 years or above.

Other conditions that you, as a sponsor must keep in mind are:

- You are capable enough to meet the financial requirements or needs.
- You should provide financial support to your family. For this, you will have to sign sponsorship agreement.

- You must earn at least the minimum income threshold, depending on the total number of family members you are sponsoring.

Reasons to Apply

There can be several reasons to apply for such a program. Few of the many reasons have been stated below:

- You and your family will reunite once again. You will feel at home.
- Your parents or grandparents will be safe and secure with you.
- You will not worry about the health of your family members, as they will be with you.
- In bad times, you will be there with them to support them.

So, if you live in Canada as a permanent resident, you must definitely apply for such a program and call your family to live with you.
